

Year 4

Using a range of texts, Year 4 will be exploring early man from the Stone Age through to the Iron Age. The children will be engaged in creative and formal letter writing, character descriptions and diary entries along with scientific and historical documentation. This fabulous topic will include opportunities for art when producing cave paintings and historical understanding when identifying artefacts.

Some of the questions we will be exploring will be:

When did the stone Age period begin and why?

How did early man live and continue to survive during this period?

How do we know about the prehistoric period?

What changed from the Stone Age through to the Iron Age?

Are there any similarities between then and the modern age?
